Introduction

Congratulations! You are now on your way to receiving your Oak Furniture Land purchase. Our ethos is simple – bringing you the very best of traditionally constructed handmade hardwood pieces of furniture ready for the modern world.

Whilst we are confident that you will be delighted with every aspect of your purchase, we feel that it's important to recap on the next stage of the process. If any questions arise or should you encounter any problems, your Oak Furniture Land Owner's Manual is on hand and ready to assist.

Your manual will explain and guide you through the delivery process providing you with hints and tips to make the delivery run as smooth as possible. If something goes wrong then we've provided you with the opportunity to let us know in three easy ways. We will also remind you of what to expect from natural hardwood and how to care for your Oak Furniture Land purchase.

Please take the time to read and digest all of the information contained within your Owner's Manual. If for any reason you have any concerns about information enclosed then it's extremely important to contact us before your items are dispatched to the carrier.

At Oak Furniture Land, we're committed to providing a delivery service which is quick, efficient and hassle-free. We will contact you to arrange the delivery within an agreed four hour time window with your items being taken to your room of choice. It is however, important that you help us to make your delivery run as smoothly as possible.

1.1 | Check the measurements and delivery access to your home

It is important to check the measurements of your items by visiting our website. Please ensure that there is adequate doorway and stair access. If a non faulty item has to be returned due to reasons beyond the control of Oak Furniture Land (which may include aborted deliveries by the customer), the customer will be subject to return fees. For details please see our full terms and conditions.

1.2 | Walking the route from lorry to your room of choice gives you an understanding of potential problems

It is essential to go to the point in your home or apartment building where the delivery will begin and walk the path that the delivery team will carry your items to your room of choice. Having a tape measure with you to measure any unusual door or ceiling heights, twists and turns including your stair bannister that might cause issues when we deliver.

Your order will usually be delivered via a large lorry, so please be sure your property is accessible for this size of vehicle otherwise please call us prior to delivery. Problems can sometimes occur on long gravel driveways or where access is tight - so again please contact us prior to the dispatch of your goods if this is the case.

1.3 | Be helpful by clearing and protecting the route from lorry to room

Please try to make the delivery as easy as possible for your delivery team. It is helpful if you can be at your residence to accept the delivery, because no one knows your home better than you do. If you are unavailable to accept the delivery yourself, please note that there must be someone over the age of 16 at your property to take the delivery for you.

Remove any tripping hazards, furniture, ornaments or wall fixtures that will obstruct the route to your nominated room of choice. Please note that our drivers are not allowed to remove their shoes due to health and safety reasons and if you are receiving delivery of a new bed, we strongly recommend that you do not dispose of your old bed before your new bed is delivered, unboxed and fully assembled.

It is your responsibility to protect your floors and carpets. We recommend using sturdy brown paper secured with masking tape, however heavier items may require more substantial, purpose-made floor protection. Please judge what level of floor protection you might need and ensure that it is properly positioned before the delivery team arrive.

1.4 | We do not unbox or assemble

We do not unbox any of your items or assemble any of your furniture. As our drivers operate to a strict timetable it is important that any other deliveries that day are met on time. Please note that we cannot facilitate the removal of any of your packaging.

1.5 | Delivery days

We deliver weekly Monday to Friday, it is important to note that we do not offer a weekend delivery service.

1.6 | No Flat Pack Furniture – Exceptions

At Oak Furniture Land, we don't sell flat pack furniture. The majority of our products are designed with no home assembly needed, however on occasions to aid in delivery or to avoid damage, our designers have deemed it best that certain items will need minimal home assembly such as dining tables, beds, wardrobes and occasional tables.

Items needing minimal home assembly will be clearly identified in the individual item description. Oak Furniture Land designers have to the best of their ability ensured any assembly is as simple as possible and in no way detracts from the quality or structural integrity of the product.

1.7 | Please retain the original packaging and S/C number on receipt of your goods

Please keep the white label with the S/C number printed on it (found on the reverse or underneath your furniture) as you will need to include this in any future correspondence with us. Please ensure that the label remains on your furniture for future reference.

Where you are receiving delivery of a new bed, we strongly recommend that you do not dispose of your old bed before your new bed is delivered, unpacked and fully assembled.

1.8 | Please check your new furniture for any damage or missing items

Should anything be amiss with your order, please contact us immediately.

We do not deliver flat pack furniture. We deliver hundreds of thousands of items each year and due to the logistics of delivering heavy bulky boxes, on rare occasions items can arrive with minor damage. The majority of these occurrences are usually quite minor and easily rectifiable. If this occurs you are fully entitled, indeed encouraged, to use the item in question as normal, at no risk to your rights, while we resolve the issue for you. This hopefully will minimise any inconvenience to you. We would ask you to report any damage or fault within 24 hours of delivery. If this is going to be a problem for any reason, please call our customer service team to inform us of any unusual circumstances.

2.1 | 3 easy ways to contact us

Online – The best and easiest way to highlight an issue is by visiting oakfurnitureland.co.uk and making direct contact with us.

Email – Contact us via email at customerservice@oakfurnitureland.co.uk

Telephone – If you do not have the means to contact us in either of the above formats please call us on 0844 977 3300 (charged at local rate).

2.2 | Images will be required from you

In order for our Customer Service team to quickly assess the extent of your problem we will ask you take digital images of the issue and of the quality control label including your S/C number attached to your furniture. If this is not possible for any reason please contact us and we will arrange for an assessor to visit your home to take the required images on your behalf.

2.3 | What to expect

Within 48 hours you will be contacted by a member of our customer service team, who will review your query and propose a solution.

As part of this solution we will arrange for a fully certified Carpenter / French Polisher to visit your home to assess the damage, and in the first instance try to restore the product by using traditional methods that form part of the manufacturing process to get your item back to the standard that we would expect from our workshop. On the rare occasion that this is not achievable a replacement item or refund will be offered.

We would always hope that having invested in your purchase, you will give us the opportunity to correct your concerns.

2.4 | Ordering Spare Part(s)

Sometimes, a spare part may be required. Please contact us to arrange this. As your goods are hand-made, we may contact you to ask you to provide some simple measurements to ensure that the replacement part fits your furniture correctly. If a spare part is in stock we will send it out by courier.

2.5 | Minor assembly hints and tips

Leg assembly: Table legs should be affixed using the flat washer closest to the leg bracket, then the split washer followed by the bolt head.

Shelves and Shelf supports: On occasion, shelves or shelf supports might be found behind or beneath a unit for transit purposes. Shelf supports can often also be found in a bag taped inside the drawer cavity. Please carefully remove the drawers to locate them following the instructions below.

Drawer Removal: The vast majority of our drawers are kept in place by a small retainer attached to the unit frame below the front centre of each drawer. To remove a drawer from a cabinet, gently open the drawer partially and carefully reach beneath it to depress the catch. This will allow you to carefully slide the drawer free.

2.6 | Our 7 day money back guarantee

All of our Oak, Mango and Mahogany furniture is covered by this guarantee. Sometimes, despite having spent a good deal of time choosing an item, you might decide for various reasons that the item isn't right for you. Should you wish to return an item as new, please contact our customer service team to arrange collection. Your money will be returned to you within 30 days of the request.

Please do remember though, that whilst we do offer free delivery, any items returned under the 7 day money back guarantee will be returned at the expense of the customer. We would ask that all items returned under the 7 day money back guarantee are in the original packaging when collected. Please note that our sofas are custom made which fall outside of the 7 day money back guarantee.

We will not be liable for any direct or indirect loss of profits or other financial loss or damage arising from defective, damaged or wrongly delivered products over and above the value of the goods themselves. This does not affect your statutory rights. Please see the terms and conditions or visit oakfurnitureland.co.uk for further details.

Hardwood characteristics

The appeal of solid hardwood handcrafted furniture is that each piece is unique in terms of colour, natural marks, grain patterns and workmanship. Consequently, you may notice some differences between items from the same range; any such differences are considered an integral part of this totally natural product.

Due to the nature of handmade furniture, all ranges will feature varying degrees of distressing from piece to piece; this may include wood splits, filling, knots, distress marks, antiquing etc. As above, such features are considered integral to the 'traditional' charm of handcrafted solid hardwood furniture. To complement these unique qualities, some of our ranges are crafted to have a 'distressed' or 'rustic' styling. This is very much intended by our skilled craftsman and makes each piece totally unique with a 'lived in' appearance.

3.1 | Graining variation may be present

Each tree grows and matures at different rates in different climates. The older the tree, often the larger and thicker the grain pattern. Grain patterns in older trees tend to be clearer. So it's not surprising that many of the timbers used to produce your items differ in appearance. It's important to understand that your furniture may be made from several cuttings of the same tree; this is partly what makes every item unique and completely different to that of an inferior veneered product.

3.2 | Sap marks may exist

Sapping is a natural occurrence in most timbers. Its appearance can be somewhat random which is certainly not a defect but merely pigmentation which regularly occurs in non-laminated and veneered products. Any true hardwood product may show some degree of this.

3.3 | Knots are likely

Classed as the 'fingerprint of natural timber' – knots can vary in size, appearance and even colour giving a true visual of the origins of your item making each piece unique from any other. A knot was actually where once a branch was when the tree was growing. Knots are a part of any true hardwood furniture which may be a feature of your furniture.

3.4 | Expansion Gaps may be visible

Expansion gaps are a design feature of many of our items and are not to be confused with decorative routing. Expansion gaps are there to allow the furniture to expand and contract according to environmental conditions without either bulging or putting undue pressure on the surrounding joints.

While all of the wood used in our furniture production has been seasoned it is still a natural material and will continue to experience small amounts of movement, which is why the gaps will not maintain a uniform dimension and will open and close according to the time of year, moisture levels, heat levels and exposure to sunlight.

Examples of expansion gaps contracted (top) and expanded (bottom).

3.5 | Medullary rays are possible

Medullary rays are ribbon like radial sheets that extend vertically through the tree across and perpendicular to a tree's growth rings. As a naturally occurring element it often appears to have pith fleck or medullary spots in sawn wood. They are an inherent part of natural hardwood timbers and are certainly not a defect.

3.6 | Much is made by hand

Some machinery is used in our manufacturing process. Hand skilled craftsman use tools such as chisels, wood planes and cabinet scrapers. The machines are there to assist but that is such a small part of what we do. Inevitably this will affect the appearance of every piece.

3.7 | Pin marks may be apparent

Pin markings are also a distinguishing feature of handmade furniture such as, but not exclusive to, our mango ranges. Often irregularly placed wherever the craftsmen requires additional bonding and support. You will notice this is also a common characteristic in items such as antique furniture or any furniture that is hand crafted rather than mass produced by machines or in laminated and veneered furniture.

3.8 | It is possible that your delivered item will vary from the item in the showroom

It will be very similar in size, but with any natural handmade hardwood there is always going to be variation in size, colour, type of grain pattern and knotting in naming just a few features of true hardwood furniture.

Your purchase is an investment that should last a lifetime. As with any 100% solid hardwood furniture it will require the correct care from you. Please don't worry as it's surprisingly easy to look after and a small amount of care will extend your furniture's life considerably.

With almost half the weight of freshly sawn wood being water Oak Furniture Land ensure there is meticulous kiln drying process to carefully reduce this moisture content of all of our seasoned timbers, leaving just enough (8-14% moisture level) so that it can properly acclimatise to the relative humidity in your home.

4.1 | The importance of wax

The preferred way to help your furniture acclimatise to your home is to treat it immediately with our specially formulated Oak Furniture Land wax. Apply a thin coating at least twice a year to prolong the life and lustre of your goods. Waxing your furniture will help protect and nourish the timbers; creating a long-lasting, protective seal.

It's vital not to use any household cleaning products such as solvents or cleaners intended for materials other than hardwood furniture as they are liable to damage the finish. Silicon is also harmful to your goods. Neglecting your furniture may result in the drying and splitting of your furniture which may invalidate your warranty.

4.2 | Do's and Don'ts

DO

- Treat your furniture with Oak Furniture Land wax immediately upon delivery and then at least twice a year to protect and nourish the wood for years to come
- Blot up spills immediately with a soft, slightly damp cloth
- Use coasters, placemats and tablecloths to protect furniture during use

DON'T

- Place items of furniture in areas which receive direct sunlight, as this can cause fading to the finish
- Place furniture directly next to heating or air conditioning vents
- Use household cleaning products, solvents or cleaners intended for materials other than hardwood furniture, as they are liable to damage the finish

4.3 | Caring for leather products

Leather is a natural product with many highly desirable characteristics, the best way to look after your leather products is with our leather care kits. Formulated to clean and protect without damaging the finish, the kit covers each key stage in leather care: cleaning, conditioning and protection.

We recommend you treat your leather upholstery immediately on delivery, prior to use, and every few months thereafter. Do not use household cleaning products, solvents or cleaners intended for materials other than leather as they are liable to spoil the finish. Protect your leather furniture from strong sunlight and excessive heat such as radiators.

4.4 | No two hides are the same

Although every effort is made to achieve uniformity, no two leather hides are the same, and you may see variations in shade and texture between products. Natural markings such as healed scars, wrinkling, stretch marks and veining may also be present; these are considered an integral part of the leather and should certainly not be viewed as faults but merely characteristics of natural leather. All these naturally occurring features add to the beauty and charm of owning the real thing.

4.5 | Troubleshooting tips

Occasionally, chairs might be delivered with small indentations in the fabric coverings caused during transit and storage. Please allow a few days for these to naturally dissipate, which they will usually do. Alternatively, some gentle massaging can also help to restore the natural shape of the leather back to the condition we'd expect from the factory floor.

4.6 | Caring for your mattress

Extending the life of your new mattress can be achieved by following some simple steps. However, it is important to note within a few weeks of using your new mattress you may notice a small depression in the area where you sleep. This is commonly known within the industry as 'settlement' and is caused by the mattress fillings directly beneath you being compressed. It's perfectly normal occurrence in all mattresses. Mattresses with comfort layers such as memory foam, reflex or other high density foams and latex can be less susceptible to it.

- Turn your mattress every 3 months (unless you have purchased a non turn mattress such as memory foam)
- Mattresses with a memory foam layer need rotating rather than turning
- Do not bend or fold your mattress

Oak Furniture Land is owned and operated by JB Global Ltd ('JB Global Ltd', 'we', 'us' or 'our'). Our postal address is JB Global Ltd, Unit 10c, Viscount Way, South Marston Industrial Estate, Swindon, SN3 4TN.

These terms relate to orders made in any of our showrooms. The contract made by you with us incorporates these terms and conditions, which shall prevail over any and all terms and conditions proposed by you.

You should not proceed with your purchase until you have read and agreed to these terms and conditions.

5.1 | Product specifications

- 5.1.1 We and our suppliers have a policy of continuous product development and reserve the right to amend the specifications of any goods or products without prior notice in relation to future sales. This includes adjustments to sizes or ornamental detailing on individual items purchased. Please email or call ahead to check exact sizes or potential ornamental changes as on occasions minor adjustments may have been made by our supplier.
- 5.1.2 Products supplied may differ as a consequence from those on display or advertised. Unless agreed with you, the products supplied will be of equivalent value, functionality and appearance.
- 5.1.3 All our furniture is made from quality natural wood and accordingly appearances may vary. Some woods will mellow with age and exposure to sunlight. When you are purchasing our furniture you are buying handmade furniture where varying degrees of distressing is generally applied. This is very much intended and makes each piece totally individual as desired by the craftsmen. We sell only genuine rustic designs with varying degrees of distressing from piece to piece; this may involve wood splits, wood filling, knots, purpose distress/scratch marks, antiquing etc. Certain degrees of filler will be used on oak, mango and teak furniture this is common and very much part of the manufacturing process. Please note that our Indian items are usually of a very rustic nature and a heavy distressing is usually applied, this may appear as a dulling or rubbing effect to the waxed finish, knotty and grainy woods are used, this is as intended by the supplier.
- 5.1.4 Leather products are made from quality natural leather and accordingly they may not be uniform in colour or texture. Only the finest hides are selected but they will show natural marks and scars on the hide.
- 5.1.5 We endeavour to display as accurately as possible the colours of our products that appear in our showrooms and on our on the website. However we cannot guarantee the complete accuracy of the pictures or photographs that are shown. Many conditions such as monitor settings and batching can affect the colouring of items in a picture.
- 5.1.6 From time to time we have a specifically marked section of our site marked as clearance ranges, when you purchase items from a clearance/discontinued range please note that this stock is new and boxed. The items are from a discontinued range and as such are being sold as seconds. These items have been excessively handled so may have knocks, scratches or other defects due to being over handled. The sale price takes this into consideration.
- 5.1.7 The majority of our products are designed with no home assembly needed, however on occasions to aid in delivery or to avoid damage, our designers have deemed it best that certain items will need minimal home assembly. Items needing minimal home assembly will be clearly identified in the individual item description. Oak Furniture Land designers have to the best of their ability ensured any assembly is as simple as possible and in no way detracts from the quality or structural integrity of the product. We will not accept any liability for any extra costs incurred by you as a result of incorrect or incomplete measurements or information supplied by you, or minor alterations made by the supplier. Please email ahead if a small change in size may deem the item unusable.
- 5.1.8 Our solid hardwood furniture will require treating immediately upon receipt. Ensure you treat the whole item not just the top and at least twice a year with natural wax polish. This is available on the website or in showrooms in three carefully selected colours; which are specially formulated to treat oak, mango and mahogany furniture. Please treat your furniture immediately on delivery as your item may have been in shipping for some time and modern home heating will accelerate the drying process. Failure to treat your wood furniture as instructed will result in drying and cracking.

- 5.1.9 Please note on rare occasions due to extreme climate changes in shipping you may find slight swelling on doors or drawers thus making them stiff to open, it is important not to return or refuse the item if this is case. Usually this will rectify itself within a week once the timbers adjust to their new environment and heating conditions, you may also find that simply swapping the drawers will remedy this. However on rare occasions the timber movement may not settle and you may need to sand or shave a small amount from a drawer or door, if so please shave from the bottom of the drawer front or from the side of the door as this will not be noticeable with regards to the look of the furniture. A simple touch of furniture wax will then protect any adjustments made. Currently less than half of one percent (0.50%) of our furniture is affected by timber movement, however please could we ask you to bear in mind that you are purchasing natural timber products where slight timber movement in shipping is a slim possibility. Therefore stiff drawers or doors will not be deemed as faulty or defective. This means you are purchasing our furniture on the understanding that any necessary simple adjustments would be need to be undertaken by the customer at the customer's expense. If you do not wish to undertake any adjustments needed and wish to return the item we will of course offer a refund under our full 7 day moneyback offer.
Please take care to research all the above points further with your local specialist as to avoid any disputes after purchase.

5.2 | Measurements

- 5.2.1 All dimensions specified by us are approximate due to the items being handmade and within a tolerance range.

The latest date by which you can expect your goods to be delivered will be stated in your order confirmation email. These dates are to be considered 'worst case scenarios' and your order may be delivered sooner than stated.
- 5.5.3 Orders totalling less than 0.25CBM may be dispatched by post or courier.
- 5.5.4 For all orders - any changes made to the content of your order will have an impact on your delivery date. We may therefore be unable to deliver your goods on your confirmed delivery date should changes occur and if so, a new delivery date will be given.

- 5.5.6 For deliveries using our two man delivery service: If you are unable, for whatever reason, to take delivery of your goods on the confirmed delivery date arranged, you must inform the carriers at least one working day in advance so that another date can be booked. If, through no fault of their own, our carriers cannot gain access on the date agreed, return charges will apply at £25 per item (0-0.25CBM) or £50 per item (0.26CBM+); see www.oakfurnitureland.co.uk/page/return-charges.html for more information.
- For deliveries using our parcel carrier service: Should you not be available at the time of attempted delivery you will be left a card with details on so that you can contact the carriers and arrange redelivery yourself. If you do not contact the carrier within 48 hours the furniture will be returned to us. In this instance the aforementioned return charges will apply. These charges will also apply if we are unable to deliver the goods due to there being no safe means of access to the place of delivery.
- The return charge mentioned will be applicable immediately after the items have left our warehouse, i.e. if the order is cancelled after we have dispatched the item but before delivery to the final destination, the return charge levied by our carriers will still be applicable. Should we be requested to make a second delivery, a £39 re-delivery charge will be levied.
- 5.5.7 If we accidentally damage goods in the course of delivery our liability for that damage is limited to the repair, replacement or refund of the goods or the value thereof.
- 5.5.8 Time of delivery is not covered in these terms and conditions. We will not be liable for any loss or damage suffered by you through any reasonable delay or delay due to unforeseen circumstances outside of the reasonable control of Oak Furniture Land or any reasonable rescheduling of delivery (our carriers cannot offer any timed or Saturday drops).

- Please do not ask our delivery team to arrange exchanges without emailing or calling us as information is not always relayed back to us correctly. If an individual driver from our carriers tells you that they will report and take care of this please ignore this and be sure to contact us yourself. Please report damages within 24 hours of delivery. Please note we will require proof of the damage from a photograph in order to facilitate allowance, exchange or refund of the item.
- 5.5.10 Please remember that although we offer Free Delivery we do subsidise your delivery fees on these items, therefore if you wish to return any items we reserve the right to refund less than the original purchase price.
- 5.5.11 In the event that you may choose to have your goods delivered to your own 3rd party carrier - we will not accept any responsibility or liability for any damage to your goods. The forwarding delivery is at the risk and the customer when using your own 3rd party carrier.

We will use three methods of carriage which we will determine on dispatch. On larger or multiple items you will receive a call from our delivery team to book a convenient delivery date that suits their pre allocated delivery route. However for smaller items a parcel carrier may be used, we will not call you if this method is chosen, however they will leave a card for you to contact them to arrange the completion of delivery. Pallet deliveries may also be used at exceptionally busy times or at a customer's request.

- 5.5.13 If the customer decides to cancel their order after we have dispatched for delivery, but have been unable to due to any cause or circumstance beyond our reasonable control (including but not limited to, adverse weather conditions, floods or acts of god), a return delivery charge will apply (see 5.5.6 above).

- 5.5.15 For orders of multiple items, the dispatch date will be assigned according to the longest lead time. If multiple orders are placed for the same delivery address, these will be grouped and the dispatch date will again be chosen according to the longest lead time.
- 5.5.16 To ensure guaranteed Christmas delivery we will contact you beforehand to arrange a date to deliver your order. If you are unable to accept this delivery date we can arrange an alternate date, but due to complex nature of re-arranging the route, we CANNOT guarantee this will be prior to the Christmas holidays.
